Dear Joelle,

Enclosed please find a copy of a final notice for permit fees due to the state. In August we had sent you a letter notifying you that we had received notice and billing of permit fees in a timely manner, but that our company was in process of audit and could not pay fees until after the first week of September. Our company privately held stock company. All our funds are generated the same as a public company and all of it comes from and through New York. The events of Sept. 11th had a very profound effect on our money. Since Sept. 11th have been unable to get only a very small amount. This is just now beginning to change and once again will be able to get our money in the very near future. Is it possible to get an extension on the final due date? These are very unusual times and unprecedented. It is our intention to not become adverse to the minerals permit program. What can be done to prevent this? It now seems certain that our first payment will be received sometime in late December or early January and could then make the required payment. Please advise on this matter.

Sincerely,

Mark D. Dotson
